

In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio. Some fish from some waters in Ohio should be eaten even less often than once a week, and some can be eaten twice a week. For more information about fish in your area, please call Ohio EPA (614) 644-2160 or Ohio Department of Health at (800) 755-4769, or visit www.epa.ohio.gov. (Information from the Ohio Department of Health Environmental Protection Agency).

In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio. Some fish from some waters in Ohio should be eaten even less often than once a week, and some can be eaten twice a week. For more information about fish in your area, please call Ohio EPA (614) 644-2160 or Ohio Department of Health at (800) 755-4769, or visit www.epa.ohio.gov. (Information from the Ohio Department of Health Environmental Protection Agency).

In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio. Some fish from some waters in Ohio should be eaten even less often than once a week, and some can be eaten twice a week. For more information about fish in your area, please call Ohio EPA (614) 644-2160 or Ohio Department of Health at (800) 755-4769, or visit www.epa.ohio.gov. (Information from the Ohio Department of Health Environmental Protection Agency).

In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio. Some fish from some waters in Ohio should be eaten even less often than once a week, and some can be eaten twice a week. For more information about fish in your area, please call Ohio EPA (614) 644-2160 or Ohio Department of Health at (800) 755-4769, or visit www.epa.ohio.gov. (Information from the Ohio Department of Health Environmental Protection Agency).

In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio. Some fish from some waters in Ohio should be eaten even less often than once a week, and some can be eaten twice a week. For more information about fish in your area, please call Ohio EPA (614) 644-2160 or Ohio Department of Health at (800) 755-4769, or visit www.epa.ohio.gov. (Information from the Ohio Department of Health Environmental Protection Agency).

In general, people should eat no more than one meal per week of any fish caught in Ohio. Some fish from some waters in Ohio should be eaten even less often than once a week, and some can be eaten twice a week. For more information about fish in your area, please call Ohio EPA (614) 644-2160 or Ohio Department of Health at (800) 755-4769, or visit www.epa.ohio.gov. (Information from the Ohio Department of Health Environmental Protection Agency).